

SKILLS FOR GROWTH SME

APPRENTICESHIP SPECIALIST

Whether from the perspective of a training provider, SME owner or at employee level, apprenticeships are an empowering use of time and energy. Apprenticeships are available to anyone and everyone, whether you're already in work or looking to get a foot in the door. Covering national and industry recognised qualifications from entry level to master's degree equivalent learning, apprenticeships can help springboard employees into their careers and upwards, all while earning wages at the same time as studying.

How we can help

Skills for Growth – SME Support has a dedicated Apprenticeship Specialist sitting within our Skills Advisory team, available to assist individuals with all enquiries relating to:

- Finding an apprentice or apprenticeship to match your needs
- Liaison with the apprenticeship levy matchmaking service where appropriate
- Finding the right training provider for your learning experience
- 75% of businesses report that apprenticeships helped to improve their product or service, and over 90% of apprentices in the UK currently go into work or further training. The evidence shows that apprenticeships work and as we move through times of great change, apprenticeships can provide a practical and sustainable avenue for filling skills gaps and developing a future-proof workforce for tomorrow's world.
